“ Years ago, Doris, Evelyn and I would sing “Going Home”. Now Doris has gone Home and is with her Lord and her loved ones, however, she will be missed here. To me her testimony was flawless. She so loved the Lord and lived a life faithful to Him. I will so miss the many conversations we had over the years. Her love for the Lord was so evident and what an encouragement she always was to me. She always spoke with such love toward her adopted family and cared for them as she would her own. We will ever remember a warm, loving Doris. Our lives were better because of her testimony. Neva Gilliland

“ We always looked forward to visits from Aunt Doris, especially at Christmas. She was such a gentle, nurturing person, always encouraging us in our faith. A favorite memory is her gift of my first train ride to Chicago to hear Arthur Rubenstein at Orchestra Hall. This visit also included a visit to Old Town and Moody Church where Bill Pearce played his trombone. I was a budding pianist and trombonist at the time.
