“ I still think of Ed as Tina's annoying little brother trying thwart our plans of trampoline time or him and his neighborhood cronies getting in our space and messing up teenage girl time! Ivy family, so sorry for the pain you are experiencing. Cherish and live in your wonderful memories. Love, Lisa Newman Hales

“ I have so many great memories with Ed, walking home from Bose everyday, riding bikes, playing Rambo on Sega Master System until 4 am, going with him and his parents to florida and going to Disney, seeing his dad get hooked in the chest by a fisherman (He was saved by a pack of cigarettes, don't worry), riding motorcycles together and seeing him get stuck in the mud with a motorcycle that had no business in the mud, walking to the gas station everyday in high school at lunch time to get junk food. He was the greatest childhood friend anyone could ask for and I can't believe he is gone. I just talked to him for the first time in years a few months back and learned his parents were still in the same house by my old house, he spoke of how great his family was and that his sister was close by and checked on him everyday. We talked about getting together again and now he is gone. I cannot believe I lost my chance to see him again and can't imagine the pain his family is going through. I am going to miss you Ed, I'm glad to know you were surrounded by such great family and friends, its not fair that you were taken so soon, the world needs people like you around for as long as possible and I am going to miss you greatly.

“ When I heard the sad news, I instantly flashed back to when I first met all of you and babysat your kids. We had a ton of laughs and good times back then. As everyone grew up didn't get to see any of you as often but you grew into a fine man and you fought a brave fight. Say hi to your Uncle Rich for me. You'll be missed. Luann

“ I wouldn't change any of my "kid neighbor friends" for any amount of money. I like to think that our neighborhood had the perfect mix of kids. And every last one of us was down for any thing at any time. Besides the Henningfields, Ed was the littlest (then Frankie Neu). I will always remember that little ivey kid running and running!! He was fearless. You could just tell that he gave his all when he played because he was always getting pushed around. A LOT! But he kept getting up!! He was not going to have to go home cuz he was getting hurt. But he was part of a bigger picture. We were all too young to know then, but we had developed a family bond that went to all our parents then, and now is part of our kids. Oh yeah, there's good stories there. What I wouldn't give to get one night of "kick the can" back in front of Iveys house... (Cuz they had really close bushes by the street!!). I would throw that little Ed Ivey over their bushes to kick that can!!! RIP Ed Ivey.

Sue, you sure brought back some terrific childhood memories. You are right Ed (Eddie as I remember) was fearless when it came to hanging out with us "bigger" kids. He wasn't worried because he had his big sister (Dawn) watching his back and boy we all knew it too. I will always remember him being the kind generous kid that wanted everyone to play kick the can, kickball, or whatever it may have been. He never wanted anyone excluded.. Ed came from a great family that valued and treasured each and everyone of us "neighborhood" kids.. We were all treated like we were their children.. Ed will be missed by many.. Thank you Ed for being the little "kid" brother to all of us.. My thoughts and prayers go out to his family. I can only imagine the emptiness you all feel.
RIP Eddie..
