“ Jeanette was a good family friend who shared many a pot of coffee and sneaked cigarettes at my grandmother's house (Bel Mar Ave). She and Arnold moved onto their land the year I was born, so every now and then she'd have to ask how old I was in order to know how long they'd lived there. She had the hugest salt & pepper shaker set I've ever seen and loved all kinds of mice - except the real ones! My relatives frequently gifted her with real-looking mice just to get a startle out of her, but it was all in the fun. She always had a cup of coffee and an open invitation to visit. We enjoyed many laughs as well as a lot of work together over the years. Rest in peace Lady L.
