“ Oh Johney - you were a great friend and co-worker. I enjoyed our talks about work and the stock market. Rest in peace my dear friend!

“Johney was one of a kind. He could get me so twisted up I wouldn't talk to him and then I could not wait to get to spend more time with him. He worked for my father-in-law long before I knew that was to be. We work our butts off on inventories and things and partied are asses off after. He was there for my wedding (even though he trash the bridal room - friend of his was hotel mgr - so crushed potato chips between the sheet, shaving cream in the pillows - you get the idea) Year's later I was his and Bonnie's best man, but could not return the favor - Bonnie wouldn't let me in the house - ha!. I had been there when Johney lost his 2nd wife Phylis to cancer and dragged him to Vegas to get him out of Racine. Johney was there for my dad's funeral on Washington Island. My son's graduation parties - always with lots of Kringle - and my youngest son Russell's funeral in Minneapolis. Johney was there as always. WE were at my bar after the service with lots of friends and neighbors. Johney asked how I was doing? - I said , "this one really hurts." Johney said "We have been through some shit together, Bud." It didn't make the pain go away, but I immediately felt much better knowing some cared to share my grief .

So to my dear Bonnie, I share your grief and though I do not have the ability to make it go away , I hope I can take on some of it for you. Love you - Brian
