“ Dear Lisa - It is now 2026 and I still fondly think on your memory. You are not forgotten. Just the other day I dreamt about a beautiful day we had spent together. I wish I could call you up and chat - the absence of your voice is deafening. When my time is done, I hope to meet you again - another time, another place. ~M.

“ Another year without you around - without your brightness. So often, I wish I could call you up to hear that beautiful voice, your goofy chuckle, your selfless love.

“ Lisa, I continue to miss you to this day. You were beautiful, inside and out. You showed me so many amazing things, but the pain you held inside was no secret to anyone who knew you, yet you always put others first. I was lucky to be someone you looked at, even if it was for just a small amount of time. I will never forget you. You will always shine as a memory in my heart, for as long as I am on this Earth. I am so grateful, so so grateful, that I was able to know you and the immense love that you could show. You were a tortured soul that never deserved any of the pain that you experienced. We all could have learned a lesson from you, but this world is too cruel to be ready for the message you had to give. Shine on you crazy diamond - as PF says. I will never, ever forget you. Eternal love - M.

“ Lisa was a sweet and loving person. When we first met we bonded immediately. In the last few years we parted ways but I always made sure to stay in contact with her. Always checking in to see how she was doing. I wish things didn't happen this way. I am so sorry to hear about this.

I've only knew Lisa a short time, but in that time we became very close. She was the sweetest most caring young lady that I had been around in a long time. She loved the military and family. She loved to see everyone happy and safe. We all are gonna miss you. LUV U LISA!
